KEEP AN EYE ON

Science and Research

IF YOU OWN INVESTMENTS

ALMOST daily, newspapers and magazines tell of some new scientific development which will have an effect on postwar manufacture of consumer products. Products once considered the last word in efficiency may be radically changed or even supplanted. Such changes may be reflected in the value of investments—perhaps some of those which you now own.

The point is to watch these developments, and study their probable effect on investments.

An organization like the Hospital Trust Company with its staff of experienced investment analysts, is better able to do this, we believe, than the individual.

Why not consider employing these organized facilities for study and research in the management of your investments? You may do so by placing your securities in a Personal Agency Account at a moderate fee. Ask us to give you full details. No obligation, of course.

PROVIDENCE, RHODE ISLAND
MARCH, 1944
VOL. XLIV NUMBER 7

▸ ▸ Tho' Commencements Come in Threes

▸ ▸ OFTEN as Commencements come these days, there is nothing perfunctory about them. A new, appropriate drama replaces the old.

So it was with the Commencement of Feb. 27 when 92 Brunonians received their degrees in the First Baptist Meeting House in "exercises made sharply severe to the eye by military uniforms and sombre to the mind by the tone of the single address."

What would normally have been two separate ceremonies—the Baccalaureate Service and Graduation—were combined in one Sunday afternoon. Nor was graduation the sole concern of the weekend. It also included: the Senior dinner, the Advisory Council of the Associated Alumni, the commissioning of a flock of new Ensigns, the President's Reception, Freshman "Week", the arrival of Navy V-12 replacements, and the start of the new semester.

▸ BUT IT WAS a deeply impressive Commencement for all that. Thirty-four Brown men were present to receive their baccalaureate diplomas, while 12 degrees were awarded in absentia. Eighty-three men, including 64 who had not yet completed their undergraduate work, wore the uniforms of Naval Ensigns and stood at one point during the ceremony to hear word of their orders from Capt. Henry M. Briggs, USN, commanding the Naval unit at Brown. The non-graduate officers, together with 51 others ordered to Midshipmen's School to complete their studies, received certificates of their work at Brown. Also cited were 130 former members of the Class of 1944 who left college to enter the armed services; they, too, receive certificates "in recognition of academic achievement and patriotic devotion."

As always, it was a closely guarded secret whether the Board of Fellows had voted to confer honorary degrees on this occasion, and to whom. The large congregation was accordingly thrilled to hear two citations and watch the conferring of the honorary degrees of Doctor of Laws upon Lt. Gen. Alexander A. Vandegrift, commandant of the U. S. Marine Corps, and Winthrop W. Aldrich, president of the National War Fund, Inc., and chairman of the board of directors of the Chase National Bank.

The citations for honorary degrees were the following:

WINTHROP WILLIAMS ALDRICH LL.D.

"In the establishment of the National War Fund you were called upon to create a new philanthropic agency of unexpended proportions. It demanded the tact and firmness, the judicious temper and moral courage, the persistence and industry which effective participation in large affairs had developed. It required that massive integrity which had given you national influence in the restoration of public confidence in our banking system. It utilized to the full the humanitarian impulses you have so often exhibited in the management of hospitals, educational foundations, and international instrumentalities of good will. So great a task summoned all those reserves of energy and inspiration which constitute leadership. By the expenditure of time and effort without stint, by success in shaping policy, building an organization, harmonizing agencies, and uniting the far flung communities of America, you have earned grateful recognition."

ALEXANDER ARCHER VANDEGRIFT LL.D.

"Some must have the boldness to choose professions with no apparent future, so that capable leadership may be available when the unexpected happens and the predictions of men, accounted wise, are proved wrong. Thus when the war to end war was won, and we were promised a lasting peace, you remained faithful to your appointed task, expecting little gratitude, and getting, perhaps, even less than you anticipated. Through long years of self-discipline you matured steadfastness of purpose, strength of character, clarity of mind, efficiency in action, and both eloquence and economy in expression. Then, when statesmanship failed and a terrible crisis came, the patience, courage, and fortitude so long nourished in obscurity shone like beacons in a dark hour of our history. For your distinguished achievements, which exemplify the finest qualities of the service you adorn, we delight to honor you."

▸ "WHAT STILL is needed is an appeal to God for spiritual resources to meet the demand of the hour, for reinforcement of the mind and heart and for refreshment of the reservoirs of courage and faith and love," President Wriston told the graduates in his inspiring baccalaureate address.

Quoting St. Paul's promise that "we are the children . . . and heirs of God," the President said: "If we enter upon that inheritance I hope you will feel moments of triumph and exaltation." The experience of Jesus in his last week on earth "is of a piece with the history of the world" and others at every ethical level have had the same experience of triumph followed by complete defeat and disaster. We have today, he said, "a sense that victory is not far away but we also have grave doubts that it will bring blessings. The closer victory comes, the more some dread its coming, fearing that triumph over the enemy will be the prelude to quarrels among the Allies."

But religion is not "an opiate" nor "an escape mechanism." It is a fortifying for adversity. "Christ did not dodge the questions of pain, sorrow, and suffering, nor the agony of fear or loneliness. Before they came with swords and which had appeared to fail him, overcame the principle of staves, He had won His battle. The principle of love, fear. His triumph was in achieving mastery of His own life and spirit. He would not escape the tribulations; but he escaped from the fear of them." He could have saved His life, "but it would have been lost for all time to mankind, and we should not gather to rejoice in His triumph and to seek victory in our own lives. The method of achieving triumph still must be the same." The inspiration of Christ, deriving from the season whose anniversary is approaching, will be with us in the tribulations of the world. "The best we can leave with you as you leave us is that you will be able to say with Him in all truth, 'I have overcome the world.' "

Sons of five Brown men were among the February graduates: John H. Pattee, son of Harry E. Pattee '06 of West Barrington; Russell T. White, son of Norman E. White '27 of Cranston; Robert B. Scott, son of Harold D. Scott '16 of Granville, N. Y.; Raymond L. Smith, Jr., son of Raymond L. Smith '14 of Pelham Manor, N. Y.; and Howard W. Young, son of George H. Young '23. Pattee and White, members of the Naval unit at Brown, were on hand to receive their degrees. The others received theirs in absentia: Scott and Young are Marines, Smith in the Army.

▸ FIVE ADVANCED degrees were awarded to candidates from the Graduate School, presented by Dean R. G. D. Richardson. Dean Morriss of Pembroke presented 40 candidates for A.B., who had exercised their prerogative of marching down the hill in spite of the threatening weather.

The complete procession formed in the basement of the Meeting House instead of on the campus, but the traditional elements were all present. Deputy Sheriff John J. McNealy, wearing top hat, full dress and a blue band for his sword, led the march into the church. E. Tudor Gross '01 was Chief Marshal, with Frederick A. Ballou '16, chief of staff, and J. Cunliffe Bullock '02 and Kent F. Matteson '28, aides. They were followed by President Wriston and Chaplain Washburn; Prof. Leighton T. Bohl '13, mace-bearer; Chancellor Henry D. Sharpe '94, Governor J. Howard McGrath, Acting Mayor William A. Cahir, a member of the Brown Corporation, marshaled by Prof. Charles A. Robinson and Prof. Charles H. Smiley.

Dr. Wriston's address, two prayers by the Chaplain, the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" and Henry R. Palmer's Commencement hymn, "Mother Dear, Brunonia," and the awards of degrees and certificates constituted the entire program.

▸ AFTER DELIVERING his address, President Wriston seated himself in the historic Manning Chair and gave the diploma to each graduate. A spur-of-the-moment impulse added a moving touch to the drama of the afternoon when Dean Samuel T. Arnold '13 presented his son and namesake his certificate. Instead of giving young Arnold his certificate, the President handed the document to the father, who thus honored his own boy. Similarly, when Henry D. Sharpe, Jr., reached the platform, his certificate was carried down to the front row of the church, where the Chancellor put the book in his son's hand. Both Arnold and Sharpe were commissioned from the ROTC unit before they had completed their academic work at Brown.

THE CLASS OF 1910 awarded its trophy this year to Philip Teschner, who played on the East team New Year's Day. Elmer S. Horton made the presentation before the Advisory Council. The bowl is for feats in football and scholarship.

Candidates for honorary degrees were presented by Prof. Herbert N. Couch, while the hoods were conferred by Prof. William T. Hastings, Secretary of the Faculty. Although Mr. Aldrich's hood was placed over his head, as is customary, the Marine General received his draped over his arm, since other regalia may not cover the military uniform.

General Vandegrift, incidentally, made a particular hit with all at the Commencement. He brought no aide with him and made it a point to chat with all the Marines he saw, either at the hotel downtown or at the reception in Faunce House's new Gallery Lounge after the graduation. The reception was one of the best attended in some time, with graduates, their families, alumni, and others of the University community paying their respects to Mr. and Mrs. Wriston and Mr. and Mrs. Adams, in the receiving line

The Senior Dinner, held in the Pine Room of Faunce House Feb. 24, was enlarged to include all the V-12 men who were leaving Brown at the end of the semester to take up new Navy duties elsewhere. With Dr. Bruce M. Bigelow as toastmaster, the speakers included: President Wriston, Chancellor Sharpe, Dean Arnold, Capt. Briggs, Chesley Worthington for the Associated Alumni, and Seniors Philip Teschner and George Kanouse. Joseph McManus presented certificates to the Senior letter-men on behalf of the Athletic Council. "Anchors Aweigh" takes on deeper significance when you hear it sung under such auspices.

"People were very prone to say before this war that youngsters of the present generation were soft and wouldn't live up to the things we thought they should do," Gen. Vandegrift said in an interview in Providence. "I feel very definitely that the war in Africa, Italy, the south and southwest Pacific, and in the air over Europe has shown that Americans are not soft and that they do not lack the will to win. Moreover, it is coupled with a readiness to die if it is necessary to die to win." ◂◂

Housing at Brown ◂

The Advisory Council Approved Plans in the Course of a Substantial Meeting

▸▸ WITH ONLY A scattering of dissent, the Advisory Council of the Associated Alumni voted on Feb. 26 an expression of "confidence in the University's plans for better housing." The vote put the cap on a revealing discussion of the Corporation's proposal with regard to fraternity houses, in the course of which President Wriston told the alumni representatives that the University was considering plans for a fraternity quadrangle as one phase of a post-war program for the housing of Brown students on a "distinguished and attractive" plane.

As the BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY went to press on March 11, seven of the fraternities on the Hill had voted to offer their chapter houses to the University in accordance with the Corporation proposal. One had rejected it. The seven acceptances of the proposal came from Alpha Delta Phi, Beta Theta Pi, Delta Tau Delta, Delta Upsilon, Kappa Sigma, Phi Kappa Psi, and Theta Delta Chi; Psi Upsilon was in opposition. Three other houses were known to have held meetings without arriving at a final decision, while no action had been taken by the other five, as far as this magazine learned. In the former group are Delta Phi, Phi Delta Theta, and Zeta Psi; in the latter, Delta Kappa Epsilon, Lambda Chi Alpha, Phi Gamma Delta, Sigma Chi, Sigma Nu. Phi Delta Theta was scheduled to hold another meeting March 22, while the Phi Gamma Delta date was set for March 21. Pi Lambda Phi, the other national fraternity on the Brown campus, has owned no real estate.

The discussion on fraternities, given a headline spot on the Advisory Council program, was "off the record," since the Council has met in closed session for a number of years. We refer to it here since the local press, although unrepresented in the meeting, printed a version of it the next morning.

▸ THE ADVISORY Council spent a profitable and concentrated day in hearing and talking about the University today and about projects in which alumni might take an active part. Nelson B. Jones '28 described the campus in 1944, telling of the valiant way in which extra-curricular activities persisted alongside of the military and academic. Dr. Bruce M. Bigelow '24, speaking of "Tomorrow's Alumni", described the make-up of the student body today and asked some questions about the future of Brown, too. Recalling the great increase in enrollment after the last war, he wondered if there would be great pressure on Brown to increase its student body when peace comes again. More accredited boys from Rhode Island would be knocking at our gates, but the University must retain its national character. Brown must be progressive, he warned, and could not rest on its prestige as the third oldest New England college. President Wriston talked off the record in a provocative set speech and contributed freely and frankly to other discussions. The inspirational climax came when Vice-President Adams roused the men to realize and accept their responsibilities in the re-shaping world.

An excellent series of reports in various provinces of alumni activity and thought were prepared and presented by committee chairmen: A. L. Philbrick '03, Carleton D. Morse '13, Sidney Clifford '15, H. Stanton Smith '21, Edward T. Richards '27, Alton C. Chick '19, and F. E. Schoeneweiss '20.

▸ FIVE ALUMNI TRUSTEE nominations were voted by the Advisory Council, which selected them from 10 submitted by the Executive Committee. The men chosen in this preliminary phase of the proceedings are: Jarvis Howard Alger '09 of Montreal, Que., vice-president and director of the Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd., and the Aluminum Power Company, Ltd. Lt. Col. Marshall N. Fulton '20, chief of medical service, Valley Forge General Hospital, Phoenixville, Pa.; at present on leave from the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital in Boston as senior associate in medicine and the Harvard Medical School. C. Douglas Mercer '06 of Brookline, Mass., president of Willcox & Gibbs Sewing Machine Co., New York, and chairman of Willcox & Gibbs, Ltd., London, England. Donald Gordon Millar '19, Greenfield, Mass., president of the Greenfield Tap and Die Corporation. Ronald Macdonald Kimball '18 of Chicago, vice-president of the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Company.

Three men were also nominated for the Athletic Council vacancy to succeed Raymond L. Smith '14 of New York as one of the alumni representatives. Their names will be announced when they all agree to be candidates. So, too, with candidates in the various regions for the slate of candidates for Directors of the Associated Alumni.

Sixteen Brown Clubs were represented at the meeting, while most of the Directors and other officers of the Associated Alumni were on hand. By invitation, the Council included Alumni Fund Trustees, former officers of the association, directors of the BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY, alumni presidents of Brown fraternities, and class secretaries. The Association of Class Secretaries was re-organized at a special meeting at the end of the day. ◂

The Marines on the Cover

▸ A MARINE CORPS combat correspondent, writing from "somewhere in the South Pacific (delayed)", says that the recent meeting of three Brown University alumni there was "enlivened with the arrival of the school's monthly magazine." The official Marine Corps photograph which appears as the cover of this issue is further evidence of the reunion.

Addressed to Marine Captain Harvey M. Spear '42 of Providence, the publication was soon in the hands of 2nd Lts. David Cooper '43 of Brookline, Mass., and E. Eliot (Moose) Miller '43 of East Williston, Long Island, N. Y., says the news release. Capt. Spear, the youngest member of the June, 1942, graduating class at Brown was appointed to his present rank this winter. He left the campus two months in advance of graduation for Marine Corps officer training. Lts. Cooper and Miller took their basic at Parris Island and attended OCS at Quantico. ◂

A Word of Thanks for Helping

▸ WE'RE GRATEFUL to a considerable number of Providence alumni who came to our rescue last month. They sent, in response to a postcard appeal, their copies of this magazine when we told them we were short of extra copies to supply last-minute requests, mostly for men in the service. ◂

President of Business Officers

▸ AT THE RECENT meetings of the Association in New York, Lestor L. Lapham, Bursar of Brown University, was elected President of the Eastern Association of University and College Business Officers. ◂

The Brown Clubs

Alta California

▸▸ NATHANIEL BLAISDELL '83 was elected president for the 46th year in succession at the Annual Dinner Meeting of the Brown Club of Alta California, held at the University Club, San Francisco, on Saturday evening, February 12, 1944. Mr. Blaisdell, in his report to the Club for the past year, told us of his trip to the East Coast, including Providence, last June (1943); and of attending the Commencement Exercises at Brown. He described how different that Commencement was from peacetime corresponding occasions. Mr. Blaisdell also told us the secret as to how he successfully prevailed upon the management of a certain hotel in Providence, during war times, to provide both a room and a menu for his Class Reunion, to which a few special guests were also invited. And we all wished we could have been there too, from the story of the gaiety and good fellowship of that occasion.

George F. Weston '78, brought to the meeting a great many pictures depicting the history of boating at Brown. These pictures included the first boat house, purchased in 1873, and on through to the present modern spacious boat house given to Brown by the Class of 1907, and dedicated at the Intercollegiate Dinghy Racing Association Regatta in 1938.

Mr. Weston was stroke of the crew of '78. They were 6-man crews in those days, the stroke position steering the shell by means of a foot-lever attachment. The many pictures shown included the crew of '74, who won every one of their races; the crew of '78; and one down to the Intercollegiate Regatta in 1936 at Bristol, R. I. and views of recent Dinghy racing events. These pictures were of great interest to all present.

Mr. Blaisdell then introduced the speaker of the evening, Dr. T. Harper Goodspeed, '09, who spoke to us on South America under World War Conditions. Dr. Goodspeed has recently returned to the University of California from a 17 months' trip to South America. During this trip he lectured there over 200 times. Dr. Goodspeed's Expedition brought back with them over 150,000 plant specimens from South America, which specimens will increase our scientific knowledge and also assist our nation's agriculture. Dr. Goodspeed told us of the different races and nationalities represented in the different countries of South America, of the results of the war on these countries. He also spoke of the natural wealth, mineral and agricultural, of the various countries, and of the part these countries would possibly take in the post war world.

Dr. Goodspeed, from his knowledge of and observations in South America, gained on previous trips as well as the last visit, is in favor of (1) establishing in our Government a non-political department, to be a permanent institution regardless of the party in power, to deal with South American questions, in order to give stability to our national policy with those countries; and (2) the formation of a definite program for our future plans for cooperation with South America, drawn up to eliminate axis policies already there. Dr. Goodspeed's address was most informative and interesting. It was a great privilege for those present to learn so much about conditions and developments as they are today in the South American countries.

F. E. Roper '11, was re-elected Secretary and Treasurer. Others present were: Douglas W. Allan '38, Austin K. Allen '04, Haven A. Cobb '08, Roland J. Morgan '13, Anthony P. Morse '37, Rt. Rev. Louis C. Sanford '88, Robert E. Soellner '24, Bertram Smith '09, Rev. Merrick L. Streeter '07, Stewart D. Weston '08 and Trueman D. Woodbury '03. F. E. R. ◂

April 10 in Boston

▸ NEW ENGLAND Brown men with recollections of the good banquets for which the Boston Club is famous are saving the date of April 10, when the annual dinner will be held at the Sheraton. Dr. Alexander Meiklejohn '93 and President Wriston are to be the speakers in an all-Brown program, according to President Ernest E. Nelson '19.

Dr. Meiklejohn's classmates are planning a special reunion in connection with the dinner, with notices out from Robert Cushman and Edward H. Weeks.

The club had one of its largest luncheons in the Parker House March 9 when Dr. Bruce M. Bigelow was the speaker.

The Boston group is participating in the formation of a co-operative advisory service to help returning soldiers find their way back into civilian life. Edward T. Brackett '14, Secretary of the club, is on the executive committee of the bureau quartered in the Harvard Club. The bureau promises to be a counterpart of the War Service Advisory Bureau which gave 17,000 interviews to college men inquiring about military service opportunities.

Highlights of 1943 football were shown and described for 50 members of the Brown Club of Boston when Coach Skip Stahley lunched with them at the University Club Jan. 22. The informal Saturday noon lunches in the South Station Restaurant continue.

A good letter went out to the alumni in the Boston area recently over the signatures of the officers of the club: President—

Military Service: a Supplement ◂◂

▸▸ THE PRELIMINARY ROSTER of Military Service, published as the Bulletin of Brown University last October, gave the names of alumni in the armed forces in the Second World War, from Dec. 7, 1941 to Oct. 1, 1943. It was mailed to all the individuals so listed. Additional copies of this Preliminary Roster are available and will be sent upon request if you will write the Keeper of War Records, Brown University.

The ALUMNI MONTHLY herewith publishes the first supplement to that Roster. It lists additional names, takes cognizance of promotions, and otherwise seeks to be up-to-date as of Feb. 25. The Keeper of War Records in the Alumni Office asks word of any omissions or other corrections. Although, for security reasons, the information published is limited, the Office is eager to have full data. It will undertake to forward mail to any alumnus.

Their Letters Posthumously ◂ ◂

▸ ▸ BROWN UNIVERSITY Varsity letters have been awarded posthumously to six former athletes whose undergraduate life was interrupted by the war before they had won letters for participation in various sports. The action, voted by the Athletic Council of the University, is announced by Professor Walter H. Snell '13, Acting Director of Athletics. Former Brown students so honored were: 2nd Lt. Joseph E. Hand, USA, son of Sgt. Bernard Hand, campus police officer; 2nd Lt. Henry A. Adams, USMCR, of Fall River, Mass.; Lt. (jg) Carl H. U. Davis, USNR, of Wilmington, Del.; Lt. William P. Erickson, USA, of Braintree, Mass.; Lt. Russell J. Hall, USA, of Bristol, Conn.; and 2nd Lt. James R. Rutherford, Jr., USA, of White Plains, N. Y.

Dr. Snell made the following statement in explanation of the action by the Athletic Council: "When these men left Brown University for service with the armed forces of the United States, we joined heartily in their hope of returning to the campus to resume undergraduate work. We now sorrow in the thought that they cannot return.

"They all exemplified the high promise of their generation at Brown in many important respects. It was their lot to find fulfillment of their mission in the sacrifice they have made for our victory.

"Beside this supreme contribution, some of their unachieved desires may seem small but we cannot help thinking of them. Among their interests on the Brown campus was athletics. Each man had already represented Brown in athletic contests, showing an exemplary spirit of sportsmanship, an eagerness to accept responsibility, and a sense of the relation of the individual to his team. Each so exalted those virtues in military duty that, although he had not yet won a varsity letter as a student, we know he followed the best traditions of Brown athletics.

"It is the wish of the Athletic Council of Brown University to honor these men and the posthumous award of a varsity 'B' has been voted them. We hope that the families of these men will accept this award as a token of the large debt all of us owe them for the lives so gallantly offered to the cause of freedom." ◂ ◂

THE CAVALRY HAD something afoot. Those were the troops of Brig. Gen. William C. Chase '16 who stormed ashore at Los Negros to win MacArthur's high praise and an Admiralty Islands foothold.

A Sub to Leary's Credit

▸ GEORGE WELLER of the Chicago Daily News was writing from "Somewhere in New Guinea": "Besides the sub sunk at the mouth of the Kumusi River, still another was hit and probably sunk, five days before, by another PT boat, captained by stocky, black-haired Lt. Raymond Leary of South Dartmouth, Mass. Leary, a graduate of Brown University, is a deadly serious young officer, although he resembles Lou Costello, the movie comedian."

Not quite a graduate, Leary was at Brown three years with the Class of 1942 before joining the Navy. ◂

How Two Doctors Are Fighting

▸ ▸ FIGHTING malaria, dread mosquito-borne disease of all armies, has been a full-time job for Lt. Col. Justin M. Andrews '23 in the Mediterranean area. Through his efforts and those of a small army of scientists and medical technicians, a relatively modest number of soldiers contracted malaria, while eight times as many civilians fell prey to it. It has long been dreaded as more deadly than bullets, leaving men fatigued and often unfit for combat.

Col. Andrews, for several years chief of the Division of Malaria Investigation for the Georgia State Health Department, is assistant malariologist on the staff of the Surgeon General in the North African theatre. To determine where malaria was most prevalent, thousands of blood smears were taken among the civilian population. He directed the draining of marshes, issued insect repellants, and distributed atabrine, dye equivalent of quinine.

In Sicily malaria provided 60 per cent of the disease cases, and there were 1500 more cases of malaria in the Seventh Army than battle casualties of all kinds.

▸ MAJ. F. A. SIMEONE '29, MC, USA, is reported to be taking a major part in the fight being made by the Medical Corps against gangrene infections among American soldiers in Italy. An authority on the subject of gangrene, Simeone is working all hours at a new field laboratory set up to develop a better serum to combat the infection, which is aggravated by the terrain and the mud in the fighting area. ◂ ◂

The Chaplain Picked a Lulu

"In the boat next to mine and among the first wave of Marines to land on the fire-riddled beach of Tarawa, was Lt. W. Wyeth Willard, USN Chaplain's Corps, of North Scituate, Mass." So began the Associated Press story by T/Sgt. Gene Ward of the Marines.

"It was nothing new to Chaplain Willard, veteran of the Guadalcanal campaign, who spent more time in the Solomons area than any other Navy chaplain. He was there with the Marines from start to finish and recently refused to return home when he became a victim of malaria. He told the other doctors, 'Malaria or no malaria, there's a campaign coming up, and I'll stick with the Marines . . .'

"This was the campaign. He picked a lulu.

"Chaplain was aboard my transport. During the weeks at sea preceding the landing he preached a sermon every day, talked personally with close to 100 Marines each day, baptized 61.

"He is a graduate of Brown University, 1927, and of Princeton Seminary, 1931. He was for six years pastor of Emmanuel Baptist Church, in Newark. Mrs. Willard is at present supervising the running of two camps for children, Camp Good News and Camp Good Cheer, which Lt. Willard founded at Forestdale, Cape Cod."

This is not the first time newspapermen have been attracted by Chaplain Willard's work. A year ago the New York Herald Tribune published a photo showing him conducting a baptism for 18 Marines on Guadalcanal. He is the author of "Steeple Jim", published in 1929 and telling the life story of the mission figure with whom Willard worked while an undergraduate at Brown.

Milwaukee Newest Club

▸ IF THERE was any doubt ever that there would be a Brown Club in Milwaukee, Ernest T. Clough '20 settled it by moving there this past year. Long active as Secretary of the Boston Club, but now a Milwaukee resident, he took the lead this winter in calling the alumni together upon the occasion of President Wriston's visit to Wisconsin Feb. 1. Of the 20 who gathered at the University Club, 14 were alumni, two fathers, and one a grandfather of Brown men. Completing formal organization at that time, the club was welcomed into the official family at the Feb. 26 meeting of the Advisory Council of the Associated Alumni.

The officers of the new group are as followers: President — Eugene L. McIntyre '04; Vice-President—Dr. Roy W. Benton '18; Secretary-Treasurer—Leonard L. Oster '30; Directors: John E. Brennan '28 and Cyril M. Owen '34. "Membership shall be open to all male graduates and non-graduates of Brown University residing or having a place of business in the State of Wisconsin."

Milwaukee increases in importance as a Brown centre, and in recent years a steady flow of undergraduates have come from that area, due in part to the good Brown tradition built up among the alumni there and in no small measure to the relationship cultivated in the fine secondary schools there by Dr. Bruce M. Bigelow, chairman of the committee on admissions. ◀

The Engineers' Annual

▸ THE ANNUAL meeting of the Brown Engineering Association was one of the best ever, in spite of the fact that the younger alumni weren't on hand. The party was held in the Midston House, New York City, Dec. 2, between sessions of the A. S. M. E.

The Engineers had picked the All-American toastmaster, Prof. William W. Browne '08, authority on biology, birchwood, and Brunoniana. President Wriston told us what was happening on the Hill, while Henry C. Hart '01, President of the Associated Alumni, told of his hopes and complimented the Engineers for the fine spirit they have always shown. Jim Starkweather '44 of the Brown Navy V-12 unit came down from Providence as the student representative. Chet Worthington, the Director of Alumni Relations, illustrated various phases of alumni activity with stories from all the fronts.

E. Edmund Jackson '11 of New York took over the reins as President from Harvey D. Jones, each of them making appropriate remarks. Other elections reported by Wayne M. Faunce '21 for the nominating committee are: Vice-President—William T. Brightman '21 of Providence; Secretary-Treasurer—Carl A. Kuester '26 of New York. Stanley W. Burgess of New York is the retiring Secretary-Treasurer and Alton C. Chick '19 of Providence the ex-Vice-President.

The Association had a luncheon meeting Jan. 27 at the Hotel Bristol in New York. Among the 16 attending were two past Presidents, Robert Perkins and Harvey Jones, as well as the incumbent. A. L. Buffinton told of plans for the general New York alumni dinner March 23. The Executive Committee held its first meeting of the year after lunching at Wanamaker's in New York Jan. 24. Plans were outlined for the New York and Providence spring meetings. Mr. Jackson represented us at the joint annual meeting of the Harvard-Yale-Princeton Engineering Associations Jan. 21.

Wriston in Chicago

▸ A WARNING that federal subsidies might also bring government control of education was uttered by President Wriston when he met with the Chicago Brown Club on Feb. 3. The main hope for the continuance of academic freedom after the war, he said, lies in the privately endowed universities and colleges. Even the academic freedom of the state universities is founded in the standards set by the endowed schools, he said.

As reported in the Chicago Tribune, Mr. Wriston said the speedup program now in force in universities is like other wartime sacrifices—necesary for the emergency—but he expressed opposition to a continuance of the speedup after the war.

The meeting, under the direction of F. Donald Bateman '25, President, was one of the largest the club has held. It was supplemented by a smaller luncheon for the Advisory Council of the club tendered by Wallace R. Lane '99 at the University Club.

The Brown Derby, edited by John Monk '24, continues to set a lively standard for a club publication — newsy, personal, enthusiastic.

Emery Walker, Admissions Officer, was the guest of honor at the annual Christmas luncheon for alumni, students, and friends in Chicago. ◀

New York's Highest

▸ WITH 392 on its roster, the Brown University Club in New York last month had the highest membership in its history. Its weekly luncheons at the clubhouse, Park Ave. and 39th St., every Tuesday grow increasingly popular. ◀

2nd Lt. David B. Cooper, USMCR, writes that he and Capt. Harvey Spear '42 and 2nd Lt. Eliot Miller '43 are "in the same defense battalion and on the same dot in the Pacific." This month's cover confirms the fact.

Lt. Stephen M. Danforth's widow recently was presented with the Air Medal

What price have you put on YOUR partnership?

". . . for better, for worse, for richer, for poorer, in sickness and in health . . ."

You can't look at a marriage contract in a coldly legal light. You can't put a price on love and faith and forgiveness and understanding.

But maybe you've already done just that, unconsciously and unfairly, in planning your life insurance!

Most men carry five, ten, fifteen times as much insurance as do their wives. Does that reflect the relative worth of each to the partnership?

"Of course not," you say. "That's simply because the husband is the wage-earner and his family must be protected whatever happens."

That's a reasonable answer and a common one. But there's another side to it. A very timely side today.

When a man goes into military service, his wife must be both mother and father to their children. If she dies, the father's insurance is little help because he is still alive. And, far from home, he can't help much in any other way, but the mother's insurance does help.

The need is still acute for any father confronted with the same loss. He has to hire a nurse or housekeeper for the children, which he can ill afford—or rush into a marriage of convenience. Wouldn't a proper amount of insurance on his wife ease the emergency?

We raise these questions frankly and thoughtfully because they represent real problems today, and because we are interested in seeing men and women achieve happy, balanced partnerships.

Why not talk things over tonight with an experienced New England Mutual Career Underwriter? He will help you work out a plan to fit your own family's situation, and will show you how the substantial cash values in your wife's policy can be used to increase your joint retirement fund when the children have become self-supporting.

Is your partnership properly balanced?

As the advertisement on the opposite page points out, war has unbalanced the insurance programs of many families. Changes have created risks that pre-war insurance plans simply weren't designed to care for.

Perhaps in peacetime your wife's insurance did not need to figure importantly in the protection that your insurance gave your family. In wartime, it may well be that increased insurance for her is what you need for adequate protection.

Every life insurance program ought to be reviewed regularly to keep it up to date. Perhaps yours needs it now. Below is a list of people who can counsel you.

They're alumni of your college and they talk your language. They are also trained representatives of the First Mutual Life Insurance Company Chartered in America.

Out of their experience you'll get practical suggestions. They'll help you make the most of your limited life insurance dollars — help you protect your present policies with premium loans if necessary.

Don Taylor, Gene Castellucci, and Louis Howayeck are all in the same company at Camp Crowder, getting their Signal Corps training.

Tom Cutler, an ERC man from Brown, completed his basic training in November at Ft. McClellan and is now in the ASTU at North Dakota Agricultural College, Fargo, busy with engineering studies.

Arthur Markoff is a Private in the 5th Co., 5th Regt., ASTP, Fort Benning, Ga.

Robert G. Leadbetter has reported as an Apprentice Seaman at the Norfolk Navy Yard, Va.

Most recent address of H. Dudley Mills, Jr., who attended Brown for a year before leaving for the Naval Academy, is 2446 Bancroft Hall, U.S.N.A., Annapolis, Md.

A/C Howard Baetzhold, USAAC, reports that he is studying meteorology at M.I.T. and hopes to be commissioned in June.

A/C Harvey Olevson, USAAC, has been transferred from Maxwell Field, Ala., to Chester, Ill.

Pfc. Irving R. Levine is in the ASTP at the University of Denver, studying engineering. He says it can't compare to Brown.

Robert Claflin, PhM3c USNR, wearing the new insignia of the Marine Air Wing, visited the Alumni Office recently to bring us up to date on his record. To add to our confusion, he told us that he is detached from the Navy for service with the Marine Corps, and is stationed at the moment at the USMC Air Station, Cherry Point, N. C., where he ran into 2nd Lt. George C. Arnold, 3rd, AC USMCR, also '45.

Ens. Peter Becker's wedding was a day late. The plane taking the Navy flier to New York to marry Ens. Carol Marie Collins of the Waves was grounded by fog, but the ceremony took place Jan. 28. Mrs. Becker is the daughter of retired General Sessions Judge Cornelius F. Collins and a niece of Supreme Court Justice William T. Becker. Ens. Becker's father is Warrant Officer Vincent DePaul Becker, USMS.

Cpl. Sheldon Silverman, who has just graduated from Gunnery School, winning his wings as an Air Crew member, dropped in at the Alumni Office when he was home on Christmas furlough. He likes his job in the Air Corps immensely and was on his way to Salt Lake City for assignment.

On a recent broadcast of the "Blind Date" program for New York, James Bartley, S 1c, USCG, won a date with a fashion model and an evening at the Stork Club—and also some publicity in the Providence Journal.

Brown was represented in the Army-Navy game at West Point, when Vic Finos place-kicked for the point after the first Navy touchdown. Finos attended Brown for a year before entering the Naval Academy.

William J. Samos, USCGR, recently promoted to SK3c after 15 months service, returned to Providence on his first leave since enlisting. Stationed aboard the same Coast Guard cutter on which Lt. (jg) John B DeLuca '40 is serving, Samos has seen convoy service to Russia and England "haunted" by subs and icebergs. After boot camp, he helped train dogs for beach patrol and on one occasion was badly mauled. Tired of shore duty, he asked for a transfer and next day was aboard a cutter.

In the same convoy with the "Escanaba" when she was torpedoed and another Brown man lost his life, his ship was stationed in "coffin corner" to pick up survivors.

He hopes to stay in the Maritime Service after the war.

Pvt. Hugh Chedester, at the Citadel in Charleston, S. C., studying engineering under the ASTP, wrote to say he liked the swimming news letter. No team athletics for him under Army regulations, but he is planning on some ocean swimming when the weather warms.

Larry Josselit, Jr., is an Army Cadet: ASTU, Company C, Leland Stanford University, Palo Alto, Calif.

Pvt. Tom Langford, Infantryman, is spotted "somewhere in the Pacific."

Richard T. Downes, PhM3c, USNR, has returned from North Africa with the 70th Const. Bn. to train new men. With other Seabees, he was a guest at a Kiwanis Club luncheon in Providence.

Vol. XLIV MARCH, 1944 No. 7

Six members of the Class of '46 are scattered among the various ASTP regiments at Ft. Benning, Ga.—Harold Demopulos, Ernest Frerichs, Harley Latson, Albert Peel, Robert Shea, and Merrill Shattuck.

Howard Extract, who recently received an honorable discharge from the Army, is now with Station WHN, New York City.

Ray Norton, Jr., is now a Radio Technician 3rd Class, stationed at Treasure Island, San Francisco.

Pvt. Herbert W. Browne, USMC, has joined a number of other Brown men at Parris Island for basic training, but he says he's kept so busy that he hasn't had time to look for them.

Stationed at Ft. Benning in the ASTP are Myles M. Cook, John B. Lawrence, Jr., Ernest T. Litchfield, David Meehan, John F. Olstad, Arthur H. Round, and Paul von Loesecke.

AN ENSIGN GETS HIS SHIP:

"I have seen the equipment installed and have watched the dock trials. I am very pleased with the performance of the G-E wark as is everybady else. If the rest of the equipment on board is as good, the Axis farces will rue December 7, 1941. She's a swell ship—one that will make histary..."

FROM AN AIRCRAFT GUN TURRET:

"...It sure is good ta sit in a turret and glance araund and see the wark put out by G-E. Quite a few units in aur turrets bear the G-E Managram. You feel safe when yau turn an your pawer switch and know that all your electric units will wark in gaad arder..."

FROM NORTH AFRICA:

"...I have had the appartunity to wark with General Electric equipment and it has staad up to the test under extreme conditians.

"Over here in this North African theatre of war we members of the amphibious farce are having a very busy time af it. During this time we have yet ta find equipment fail us when we really need it. We have been in twa of the major invasions over here and have been subjected ta relentless attacks from the air. Bambardment generally is very hard on equipment, but as yet none has failed us ta the extent we have nat been able to use it. I wish to say that all the fellows over here really appreciate that..."

IN THE SIGNAL CORPS:

"...I've run across quite a lat of G-E equipment, especially in radia...As lang as the people on the hame frant keep pouring out such fine warkmanship, we have na fear of coming out on the short end..."

NORTH AFRICA:

"...It sure shaws the boys here that the G-E is behind the boys 100% and alsa by seeing all the equipment with the G-E label on it alsa shows us that the G-E is accomplishing the greatest achievements of all times, nat anly thraugh quantity but alsa quality, which all sums up to aur slagan of quantity plus quality equals victory, which has been proved here in North Africa. The boys all tell me I could be praud of working far such a great company. I tald them that I already knew that..."

One of the Promises Men Live By

AT THE TOP of the page is one of today's anti-Swastika symbols. There are thousands of others. Each trade-mark of an American company producing for war is such a symbol.

What makes these symbols important is what has been put into them by the men and women producing this war equipment, and the way this equipment will be used—by American boys against the Axis. But the way the men in the armed services feel about these symbols is important too.

The letters quoted in part at the left tell how some of these men—General Electric men now in the Army, the Navy, the Marine Corps—feel about one of these symbols, the G-E Monogram, the trade-mark of General Electric.

We, 192,000 G-E men and women, are producing material today for almost every battlefront in the world. We are going to keep on producing this material to the limit of our productive capacity, to the highest of our quality standards, as long as it is needed by American boys anywhere on earth. This is no more than simple duty. But the Monogram we send along on every piece of equipment is something more. It is a message, and a promise, from us to the boy who is going to use that piece of equipment. We are glad that he understands this message. It is, God willing, a promise that he can live by. General Electric Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

▸▸ JOSIAH BARTLETT, PH.B., A.M., retired teacher, died in Burlington, Ia., Sept. 14, 1943. "To many boys he gave not only fine teaching, but also the example of a life wholly dedicated to the profession of a school master." On graduation he became principal of Lisbon, N. H. High School, and then teacher of mathematics and science at Holbrook School, Ossining, N. Y. From Holbrook he went to Riverview Academy, Poughkeepsie, and in 1913 to Gilman Country School, Roland Park, Md., where he was master and head of the Mathematics Department until retirement in 1939. He was one of "the distinguished company" who made the school, and upon many of his boys left the imprint of his fine, genial personality, his zest for serious work, and his interest in all that was passing. He was a co-author of "Algebra Review," a reader in algebra for the College Entrance Examinations Board, and an honorary member of Phi Beta Kappa. Born in Providence, Feb. 2, 1870, the son of Rev. Edward O. Bartlett, D.D., and Anna J. (Barstow) Bartlett. Married June 20, 1907, to Mary Bruen, who survives, with a son, John B. Bartlett, and two grandchildren; three brothers, Dwight K. Bartlett '98, Lt. Col. LeRoy Bartlett '02, Clarence Bartlett, and a sister, Mrs. John S. Nollen. Another brother was the late Edward O. Bartlett, Jr. '91.

▸ GUILFORD CLINTON HATHAWAY, PH.B., LL.B., lawyer and former Register of Probate of Bristol County, Massachusetts, died in Tiverton, R. I., Nov. 8, 1943. After graduation from Harvard Law School in 1902 and admission to the bar, he practised law in Fall River until his election in 1913 as Register of the Probate Court. He held this post until 1937, and thereafter was a partner in the law firm of Fuller & Hathaway. He was a former President of the Brown Club of Fall River and of the Fall River Rod and Gun Club. He had served as Worshipful Master, King Philip Lodge of Masons, as Eminent Commander, Sir Godfrey de Bouillon Commandery, Knights Templar, and was a member of Fall River Royal Arch Chapter and of the Council of Royal and Select Masters, the Adams Club, Fall River Bar Association, and Sigma Chi. He was also a vestryman of the Church of the Ascension. In college he was Captain of the Brown Militia; in later life he was Adjutant with the rank of Lieutenant, Massachusetts Naval Brigade. Born in Dighton, Mass., May 14, 1877, the son of George W. and Emily A. (Porter) Hathaway. Married Oct. 14, 1903, to Nellie M. Shirley of New Bedford, who survives, with four daughters, one of whom is Mrs. Francis A. Young '39, Pembroke College.

▸ BATES EBEN STOVER, A.B., LL.B., J.B., teacher and superintendent of schools, died in Bath, Me., Nov. 6 1943, after an illness of two years. From Brown he entered Harvard Law School, transferred to Boston University Law School and there received his law degrees in 1906. Teaching, however, had a stronger appeal than the law. He went to Cebu, Philippine Islands, as a supervising teacher, was an examiner, Bureau of Civil Service, and appraiser, Bureau of Customs, Manila, and then returned to this country in 1909. Thereafter he was principal of Littleton, Mass., High School, superintendent of schools of Brattleboro and Essex County, Vt., and Oxford, Me. Since 1926 he had been a U. S. immigration inspector in Detroit, Mich., and a RFD mail carrier in Bath. Born Monmouth, Me., June 6, 1881, the son of Rev. Eben C. Stover and Ellen (Small) Stover. Married Oct. 7, 1909, to Nella S. Goodwin of Monmouth, who survives, with three sons, one of whom is Francis W. Stover, AAF, and four daughters.

▸ JOSEPH COULTER, Superintendent of Wilcox Memorial Park, Westerly, died in Westerly, Oct. 22, 1943. To Brown men and to followers of Brown football through the years he was "Iron Joe" Coulter, one of the great centres of the game. During four years of play on the Hill he did not miss a minute of playing time, being seemingly immune to injury or to exhaustion. A pioneer in the development of the direct pass from centre, he carried on for seven years as coach under Edward N. Robinson '96 at Brown, at Holyoke, Mass., High School, Roxbury School, University of Georgia, and Shady Side Academy, Pittsburgh. His interest in football was constant; his talk of it and his stories about it, drawn from experience as player and coach, had point and substance and enjoyment, too. When he gave up coaching, he went into the motor car and truck business in Wilkinsburg, Pa., and then — an out-of-doors man always — turned to the overseeing and care of private estates. He came to Wilcox Park in 1931, made it one of the show places of the State, and won the praise of horticulturists as a grower of roses. Born Suffield, Conn., Feb. 22, 1880, the son of James and Martha (Graham) Coulter. Married Sept. 8, 1909, to Helen G. Tryon, who survives, with a son, two sisters, and a brother. His fraternity was Chi Phi, now Sigma Chi.

▸ Col. Dana Taylor Gallup, USA, retired, died in Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 6, 1943. Beginning his military career with the Massachusetts Volunteer Militia in 1910, he became Captain in 1913, took part in the Mexican Border Campaign, and went overseas in 1917 with the 101st Machine Gun Battalion, 26th Division, A.E.F. In France he was twice cited for gallantry in action. Ordered home for special duty, he served in several capacities, and before his honorable discharge in 1920 was chief of the Civil and International Law Division, JAGD, Washington. He rejoined the Massachusetts National Guard, won promotion to Lt. Col. in 1936, and retired in 1938 with the rank of Colonel. At the beginning of this war he reported for duty at Ft. Devens.

From Brown he received the A.B. and A.M. degrees, and the LL.B. degree from Harvard in 1912. Before entering law school he was principal of the Old Mystic, Conn., school. Partner in the law firm of Gallup & Leonard, he was also on the Faculty of Portia Law School, treasurer and then vice-president of Emerson College, Judge Advocate, MNG, and Representative (Republican) in the Massachusetts House from Cambridge.

At Brown he was a long distance runner on the track team, cross country champion, and president of the Worcester Academy Club. Born Old Mystic, Conn., April 14, 1885, the son of Simeon Gallup '64, who left Brown to fight in the Civil War, and Lillie (Taylor) Gallup. Surviving are his wife and a son, A/C Dana H. Gallup '44, who entered service while still a Freshman. Col. Gallup was a member of Delta Upsilon.

He intended to study medicine, but went into business as assistant superintendent of Daniel & Abel, manufacturing jewelers. He later became owner of Abel Mfg. Co., and for the past several years had engaged in the general insurance business with G. L. & H. J. Gross, Inc.

Born in Ridgewood, L. I., N. Y., June 11, 1896, the son of Bernard and Anna (Koydnoff) Abel. On Nov. 30, 1922, he married Betty R. Burger of McKeesport, Pa., who survives, with his parents, a son, Robert B. Abel of the Brown Freshman Class, and a daughter, Elizabeth H. Abel. He was financial secretary and then treasurer of the Men's Club, Temple Beth-El, and a member of Roosevelt Lodge of Masons and Providence Chapter, Royal Arch Masons.

▸ Maj. Walter Stanley Holt, Hq, 5th Air Force, died in the line of duty in the South Pacific area, Aug. 18, 1943. In college he was a varsity wrestler, varsity cheer leader in Senior year, leading actor in Sock and Buskin, on the football squad in Freshman year, and a founder and first circulation manager of The Brown Jug. During the First World War he served in the SATC on the Hill.

He began his advertising career with Livermore & Knight Co., Providence, and advanced successfully in it with J. Walter Thompson Co. and William Esty & Co., New York. While with Thompson he was Australian representative in Sydney for three years. Commissioned in 1942 in the Ordnance Department, he was on temporary duty with AAFFC, Cambridge, Mass., before leaving this country.

Born in Providence, July 25, 1900, the son of Walter O. and Clara (Hendrick) Holt. Married May 9, 1925, to Charlotte Lydia Auger of Detroit, Mich., who survives, with two daughters and a son, his parents, and a sister. His fraternity was Alpha Delta Phi.

PATRIOTISM
is a Course of Action

PATRIOTISM is doing everything possible to aid the war effort, and thus hasten the day of Allied Victory! Patriotism is participating in Red Cross and community war activities. Patriotism is working diligently at a war job. Patriotism is doing with just the simple necessaries of one's personal life, without any of the luxuries, and —

Patriotism is DOUBLING one's present weekly investment in War Savings Stamps and Bonds!

Ann Ruth Alpern is a Procedures Analyst at Chance Vought Aircraft. The work involves contacting various departments, investigating systems, and writing up company procedures, which cover everything from telephone conversations to routing shipments or hiring of personnel. She says "It is still difficult for me to conceive of an organization so large. What thrills me most is walking through the final assembly bay and watching the finishing touches being put on the Navy Corsairs and the feeling doesn't wear off. I am very enthusiastic about the whole set-up. In spite of all the excitement, though, I still miss Pembroke. After three solid years of it I guess it becomes an integral part of us. There's certainly a wonderful spirit there that I wouldn't want to have missed for anything."

HER BIGGEST JOB IS WAR

There has never been a time when the work of the telephone operator has been so important as right now.

For there are more Long Distance calls than ever before. More are in a hurry, particularly the urgent calls of war.

Calm in emergencies, capable and courteous, the telephone operators are earning a nation's thanks for a job well done.

BELL TELEPHONE SYSTEM

When you're calling over war-busy lines, the Long Distance operator may ask you to "please limit your call to 5 minutes." That's to help more calls get through during rush periods.
